

PRISON DEPARTMENT
NAGALAND: KOHIMA

THE RIGHT TO INFORMATION ACT, 2005
Sections 4(1) (b) (i):

Manual – I

PARTICULARS OF THE ORGANISATION, FUNCTIONS AND DUTIES.

INTRODUCTION

It was under the 'British- Raj' during the 1940's that the Prison System was introduced in the State. The 1st Jail, 'Kohima Jail' was opened by the then British Government at 'Old Jail Hill', the present site of District Jail, Kohima during the post World War-II.

Broadly speaking, the existence of Prisons in our society is an ancient phenomenon where anti-social elements were kept in a place indentified by the rulers to protect the society against crime. Prison was considered as a house of captives where prisoners were kept for retributory and deterrent punishment.

The aim of the society as expressed in its criminal law is to safeguard its own existence to maintain order and to make it possible for all citizens to lead a good life, free from molestation of others. The law enforcement agencies have been given the powers by the society to curtail the freedom of its citizens by taking them into custody in connection to their deviant conduct. Our prison system has been under the close scrutiny of judiciary since long, Prison being an institution primarily for persons remanded to judicial custody or sentenced to undergo jail sentence by the court only. District and Session Judges and the District Magistrate have been given responsibility to monitor on the prisoners management very closely and review it periodically under their jurisdiction, as the members of Board of Visitors prescribed in the Prison manual of state as well as government directives for Prison management.

The Prison Department functions under the Home Department headed by the Home Commissioner as Administrative Head of Department. Home Department takes up matter forwarded by the Prison Department in regard to recruitment of Officer. All correspondences with the Government, central and State are done through the Home Department.

The Prison Department is a small organization with a total strength of 866 (Eight hundred sixty six) employees. Yet, it is a very sensitive Department as it deals directly with human problems.

The Department of Prisons is Headed by a senior IPS officer in the rank of Director General of Police (Prison) assisted by various level of functionaries having 12(twelve) Jails covering 11 Districts in the State with the largest Jail, Central Jail situated at Chumoukedima, 11 (eleven) District Jails Kohima, Mokokchung, Tuensang, Dimapur, Phek, Peren, Kiphire, Zunheboto, Wokha, Mon and the newly innagurated District jail Longleng .

With advancement, Prison system has also changed. Today it is an institution where the inmates are given opportunity to reform and also to know how to earn livelihood with the introduction of Skill development Training like Culinary and food preparation, handicraft, tailoring, tea plantation, gardening, music classes and recreation by giving facilities etc .Chapels are set up within the Jail Premises and church services are conducted. Baptisms were given, confessions were heard and praise and worship services were held regularly with the objective of justice and correction. Official visitors and various NGOs and churches are coming forward to extend help in taking up skill development projects to the inmates by encouraging and enlightening the inmates to become a good citizen and socially valuable.

To achieve a certain effective measures of humanization of Prisons conditions and to put the treatment of offences on a scientific footing as the institution is an integral part of social defense component of the nation. Thereafter, Prison Department endeavor on the Prisoners reformation / rehabilitation by giving them appropriate correctional treatment but, it is unfortunate that infrastructural facilities in treatment process are yet to be developed to achieve in the field of correctional administration.

OBJECTIVE

To ensure smooth functioning of the Prison Department and management of matter relating to reformation. To equip the inmates with Skill Development Training so that they earn while inside the jail and live an economically independent life after release and that they remain an asset to the society not a liability to the family and society.
